

SUMMARY

I'm a detail-oriented person, offering a friendly and enthusiastic dedication to every job. My creative background is in graphic design, where I began doing applied study and developing self-taught skills in various design/artistic disciplines. I continued my academic endeavours further, relocating to London and moving my career path towards working as an art assistant on small projects and advertisement shoots.

Since then, whether it's professional shoots or passion projects, I've developed the foresight that practitioners require when responding to the niche requirements on production shoots. I am available for any art assistant based roles and my credits are below. I look forward to hearing from you.
