ABOUT ME

I am an art department trainee with a background in interior design and a strong interest in set decoration for film and television. I have a strong eye for colour, texture, and spatial composition, with an understanding of how interiors shape visual storytelling. Through Sky's Arts and Props Assistance bootcamp, I have gained experience in continuity, prop sourcing, surveying, and repeats. I am passionate about drawing creative inspiration from my travels around the world, using photography and collage to bring cultural research into my design work.

AWARDS

The Design Cultures Writing Award

De Montfort University

June 2023

Awarded for excellence in academic writing and critical analysis, examining how product design decisions, in commercial dolls (including Barbie and Disney) shape perceptions of body image and identity.
